

As a professional manufacturers of casted technical polyurethane parts, we are sure there are applications where physical parameters like cut resistance and dimensional stability cannot be maintained at the same performance level by changing from Mboca to another chain extender. Even using the well known more expensive chain extgenders, these parameters are again worse respect using Mboca. So in these applications, we can assure there is no alternative to Mboca to offer the market a similar price and performance final product.